

Commendation for Solidus Engineer from Raytheon

August 3, 2007

Thanks for a job well done. Our boss turned to the Business Development guy at 4:00 yesterday and said, "you know that persistent surveillance product sheet? Have it finished and ready in an hour for the 3-star visit tomorrow morning." Luckily your Solidus Engineer had it at the 99% level. We snapped some photos of the system in the lab to use in the graphics section, and we pulled it together on time. I just wanted to let you know how much I appreciated the fact that you had it ready and in such great shape. We made some edits and went to print. Everyone loved it.
